Living on a houseboat

Mr. Brad Sheen's blog post

Welcome to our houseboat. It's called Nanook. It's the Inuit Indian word for polar bear. I live here with my family: my wife Elizabeth, my son Greg and my daughter Helen.

Step on board, I'll show you our home!

This is the heart of the houseboat: the kitchen. We haven't got much space but we have what we need: a cooker, a microwave, a fridge, a small sink and a cupboard where we store our food, crockery and cutlery. This is our dining saloon: a kind of living and dining room. We sit around this table and eat in winter, while in summer we have our meals on the deck. The view is great there.

In the saloon we also read our maps and check the sailing routes. Oh, and here's the radio we use to talk to people on land and at sea.

Let's move on to the bathroom. Watch your step, don't fall!

We have a shower but we haven't got a bath tub. There are two basins, a toilet and a small cabinet for toothbrushes, medicine, shampoo, creams and perfumes.

Now let's go down to our bedrooms. This is Greg's bedroom and that's Helen's. They have both got a bed and next to the bed they have got their own wardrobe. They also have a chest of drawers, a desk and a chair. Not bad, is it?

And this is our bedroom. Elizabeth loves big windows which let in a lot of light so she can see the starry sky. There are two bedside tables, a chest where we keep our sheets, pillowcases, blankets and duvets and there is our wardrobe for clothes and shoes. Look at our wonderful carpets. Aren't they great? They were a wedding present. Over there is Elizabeth's dressing table with her makeup, cosmetics and jewellery.

Our home is very special. We have solar panels for electricity and a huge water tank. It holds 1,500 litres which last us about 6 weeks. It takes over an hour to fill it.

We haven't got a TV, we don't receive mail because the postman doesn't deliver mail to the docks but we have got an Internet connection and we can send emails. We haven't got a car because the tube is just 10 minutes' walk away. We live right in the heart of London and Greg can go to the Art Academy on foot. It's great, isn't it?

We really enjoy living afloat, it's quiet and you feel free. We couldn't ask for more.

Well, I hope you enjoyed your virtual tour. Come and see us when you like!

What's your favourite room in your house? What do you usually do in your favourite room?

Jessii Vee makes videos of herself and puts them on YouTube. Millions of people watch them. Here, she tells us about her life as a YouTuber.

Do funny or interesting things happen to you a lot? Do you think hundreds of thousands of people will want to listen to you tell stories about your life?

That's what life is like for YouTube star, Jessii Vee. More than 150 million people watch her videos of funny stories about herself, and subscribers to her channel grow every day.

Twenty-three-year-old Jessii from Ontario, Canada, turns her life into her work, six days a week. 'I spend all of Sunday having ideas for videos to film that week,' says Jessii. 'Then, on Monday, I wake up early to start making the videos. Usually, a video takes just over an hour to make. I try to make around five, so it takes most of my day. Then, from Tuesday to Friday, I edit them.'

Jessii also spends a few hours a week writing to her fans. Sometimes she meets fans because people recognise her when she goes out. 'The other day I went to buy coffee,' she says, 'and the girl serving me almost dropped my coffee when she saw it was me. She left the coffee shop to meet me outside to take pictures. It always makes me happy to see my fans are happy.'

Online life isn't all good. In the past, Jessii felt bad when people said negative things about her. 'Some people online are so quick to write hate comments,' she says. Some people said that she has really big cheeks and a really thin mouth. It made her feel bad until she found a different way to think. 'People were negative about things that I can't change. So I decided to love those things and I became more confident in myself. Only people who don't feel good about themselves make hate comments.'

If you want to start a YouTube channel, there are some things to think about. One thing you might want to do is turn off the comments. Then you won't get any negative ones. Being safe is very important, so don't show your face or real name and don't tell people where you live. One of the most famous YouTubers, DanTDM, a 26-year-old English man, didn't show his face in the beginning and now his videos have over 10 billion views (5 billion people all over the world watched the Beijing 2008 Summer Olympics).

Jessii has some advice about what kind of videos to make. 'Be yourself. Don't change to try to make people like you. They will love YOU! When I first started YouTube, I wanted to look good and do things in ways that people would like. In my old videos, I don't look comfortable because I'm not being myself. But in my videos now, you can see that I'm 100 per cent myself. I'm crazy and strange, and I don't care what people think.'

Jessii also says you should make your channel about something you really care about because that will inspire people. People know when you're not being the real you because you just want to be popular. 'Make videos about something you love and your channel will grow much faster, believe me!'
